

2010 Miami International Organ Competition

Preliminary Round

Eligibility

Any organist born on or after February 26, 1980 is eligible to compete in the 2010 Miami International Organ Competition (MIOC). The deadline for receiving all preliminary round application materials is December 18, 2009.

Procedure for Recorded Repertoire

The repertoire for the preliminary tape/CD round consists of the following:

1. A major free work of J. S. Bach
2. A work (or movement) from the Romantic period
3. A work (or movement) composed after 1940

One of the pieces chosen should be of a lyrical nature. Please provide a photocopy of any score that the judges would not be able to easily obtain. Do not label the cassette tape or CD in any fashion; recordings will be assigned numbers by the proctor in order to assure anonymity. The preliminary round will be judged solely on the basis of this recording. It is therefore in the competitor's best interest to ensure that the recorded material is of the highest possible audio quality. If desired, more than one organ may be used for the recording, but the works should be arranged in the order given above. Time limit for the preliminary round recording is 40 minutes.

Judging

The recorded round will be judged by three internationally known organists, from at least two different continents. The competitor should provide three copies of their tape or CD; the competition proctor will forward them to the individual judges. The judges will each rank the contestants individually, conferring among themselves to resolve any discrepancies.

Notification

All competitors will be notified of their status by January 15, 2010. The top three competitors will be invited to compete in the final round. In the event that a competitor chosen as a finalist is unable to compete on February 26, 2010, the next eligible runner-up will take their place.

Final Round

The final round of the competition will take place in the evening of Friday, February 26, 2010 at the Church of the Epiphany in Miami, Florida, USA. It will be in the form of a concert, with interaction from a live audience (the judges will be behind a screen). The total performance time for each competitor should not exceed 25 minutes- this includes the time taken between pieces to acknowledge the applause of the audience. Memorization is not required and will not influence the decision of the judges. An experienced page-turner is available upon request, but may not assist with registration changes, etc.

Finalists are responsible for making their own travel arrangements to Miami. Housing and transportation will be provided by church parishioners.

Repertoire

The repertoire of the final round should be chosen to provide the competitor with as much opportunity as possible to display different styles in a limited amount of time. Single movements of larger works are acceptable. The programming of early music or unusual repertoire is encouraged. There are, however, two requirements:

1. At least one work (or movement) must be the same as submitted in the preliminary round.
2. One work must be based on plainchant.

The competitor must submit a proposed final round program at the time of application. In the event of a tie in the preliminary round, the creativity and breadth of the final round program will be a deciding factor.

Prizes

1st Place- $5000 and an invitation to play a full-length recital in the 2010-2011 Concert Series
2nd Place- $1500
3rd Place- $1000
Audience Prize- $500

Prizes to be awarded at the judges' discretion. All decisions are final.

Organ and Practice Time

The organ for the final competition is the 61-rank Ruffatti at the Church of the Epiphany, Miami, FL. A stop list and more information can be found in the December 2002 American Organist (cover feature), and at the Ruffatti website www.ruffatti.com. Adequate memory levels and five hours of practice time on the organ will be given to each competitor prior to the competition; additional practice time at instruments in neighboring churches can also be arranged.

Judges

Three well-recognized musicians will judge the final round of the competition. Two of them will be internationally known and respected organists; the third will be from another musical discipline.

Additional Information

Any questions regarding the competition should be directed to the competition committee by phone (305) 667-4911, or email MiamiOrganCompetition@gmail.com
